World Markets Fail to Display the Same Tendency

Exclusive to Bulletin
WINNIPEG, Jan. 28.—The world markets to display similar trends in becoming more active. Liverpool was strong Wednesday, but the Winnipeg market closed lower than the prior day. Liverpool was reported to be in line today and the Winnipeg registered a gain of even two cents above Wednesday's market with very bullish tone in evidence. Household's estimate of more needs and supplies continue to be moderately bullish and in this regard the basic fact pointed out today by G. E. Saunders, grain statistician for Winnipeg, that supplies are estimated as total available without any estimate made for reserves. Spread of this realization evidently had the effect on the market and the shorts did some scrambling to cover.
